Peace Of The Circle

The one-day workshop provides an opportunity to learn about and experience Peace Circles.

Peace Circles are an intentionally designed yet flexible methodology for communication and creating change. Circles are used in a variety of settings such as workplaces, justice systems, government, schools, families and communities.

They can serve many purposes, including: learning, decision-making, governance, conflict resolution, healing, as well as community and team building.

This experiential training is responsive to the interests of participants.

Topics will include:

- Foundation and Invitation of Circles
- Circle Process
- Practical Applications

The Circle process draws upon ancient and contemporary wisdom in a way that opens up different and greater possibilities.
